Revving up for plug-ins

New website gives customers the information they need to drive green

As many of our customers consider their first plug-in electric vehicle (PEV) purchase, PG&E is helping them make the right choices. Now, when our customers go to www.pge.com/electricvehicles, they'll find new resources and information to help them make the green transition.

The new PEV Electric Rate Calculator tool helps our customers understand special PEV rates that could help them save on their monthly electricity costs. "Electric rates are complicated to understand and most customers do not know what rate schedule they're currently on," said Vivek Narayanan, product associate for PEV. Customers simply input their zip code and the PEV they're interested in buying, and they can find a rate option that may achieve the lowest monthly cost.

But there's more to buying a PEV than purchasing an ordinary new car. The site answers many questions customers will have about making the best choices to fit their budget and their lifestyle. For example, they can learn about the differences between various electric vehicles and to consider if their homes have adequate electrical capacity to charge a PEV.

"The website gets the customer who's not necessarily PEV-savvy to understand the impact these vehicles have on the grid and helps them make the mental connection that electric vehicles are powered by electricity, which is supplied by your friendly local utility," said Reiko Takemasa, senior product manager. "Many people don't think of that link just yet."

Reving up for plug-ins

“Once a customer has decided to purchase a PEV, we want to provide the right amount of information about the process involved in getting their home ready to charge their vehicles,” Narayanan said. “PEV installation is a complex process involving electrician home assessments, applying to PG&E for special rates, getting approval from city and county officials, and so on. We want to ensure that customers are well aware of this and that they don’t have to jump from one site to another to dig for information.”

The site also features an FAQ where residential and non-residential customers can find more information on rates and costs, charging options, and commercial and residential charging installations.

As California moves into a new era of transportation, PG&E is committed to providing the right answers and the right service to help them roll into the future.

Join us for Earth Day 2011 on April 16

Join us again for a fun day outdoors during PG&E’s 2011 Earth Day Restoration and Cleanup, Saturday, April 16, at one of 18 locations. Retirees, employees and their friends and families are invited to help improve our Northern and Central California parks. Most events are from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. (some sites are time-specific):

- 1 Angel Island State Park, San Francisco Bay
- 2 Auburn State Recreation Area, Auburn
- 3 Benicia State Historic Park, Benicia
- 4 Candlestick Point State Recreation Area, San Francisco
- 5 Caswell Memorial State Park, Ripon
- 6 Eastshore State Park, Berkeley
- 7 Folsom Lake State Recreation Area, Folsom
- 8 Half Moon Bay State Beach, Half Moon Bay
- 9 Lake Oroville State Recreation Area, Oroville
- 10 Millerton Lake State Recreation Area, Fresno
- 11 Montaña de Oro State Park, Los Osos
- 12 Mt. Diablo State Park, Concord/Walnut Creek
- 13 Palm State Beach, Santa Cruz
- 14 Patrick’s Point State Park, Trinidad
- 15 San Bruno Mountain State Park, Brisbane
- 16 Samuel P. Taylor State Park, Lagunitas
- 17 Sonoma Coast State Park, Bodega Bay
- 18 Tule Elk Station Natural Reserve, Buttonwillow

Commitment to Environmental Leadership

PG&E is committed to environmental leadership and is once again partnering with the California State Parks Foundation (CSPF) as the presenting sponsor of the 2011 Earth Day Restoration and Cleanup. This year marks the 10th consecutive restoration and cleanup partnership with CSPF. In keeping with this spirit of partnership, PG&E is granting $218,000 to CSPF. Since our Earth Day partnership began with CSPF, PG&E has contributed more than $1.2 million to fund important maintenance and improvement projects at California parks.

Sign up to volunteer

Sign up to participate in PG&E’s Earth Day 2011 on PG&E’s volunteer website, www.pgevolunteers.com. For your User Name use First Initial + Last Name + Birth Month + Birthday + Retirement Month + Retirement Day. For example: Joseph Schmidt, born on March 25 (i.e., 03/25) and retired on November 1 (i.e., 11/01) would appear as: JSchmidt03251101:

- User Name: JSchmidt03251101
- Password: Volunteers1 (Make sure to use capital V.) This is a standard password for all users.

After you have signed in, click on the name of the park where you want to volunteer in the table at the top of the page. Then click on “Sign Up” on the right side of the page.

If you have questions or problems logging into the Volunteer website, call 1-888-388-1289 or send an e-mail to support@angelpoints.com.

You can also sign up by contacting Samantha White at 415-973-3392 or sjwj@pge.com.

How you can help the Japan earthquake and tsunami recovery effort

The tremendous outpouring of support from PG&E employees and retirees for those affected by the earthquake and tsunami in Japan demonstrates once again the generosity and compassion of the entire PG&E family. To support your interest in making a personal contribution, please see the information below. PG&E will cover all administrative costs, therefore 100% of your donation will go to the Red Cross to support the victims of the Japan earthquake and tsunami.

Checks should be made payable to Aidmatrix, the vendor assisting us with this drive, and can be sent via mail to:
